

Sareh Mohebeianzadeh

I am Sarah, born in Iran and currently living in the beautiful city of Moscow Russia . I am a graduate of software engineering. I have been interested in painting since was a child and started earning painting in Iran as a teenager, trying different techniques. Like Pastels, Oil, Color Pencils, and Watercolors. But as I went further, my interest in the watercolor technique grew more and more. I had made a good friend and spent more hours with him. In my opinion, watercolor, like life, is full of different challenges. Sometimes it takes control of you and you have to move in its path, sometimes we have to let go of it and wait for an exciting event and sometimes we have to lead it to beautiful events, you have a new experience every moment and this is wonderful and Watercolor is my favorite medium to paint with, Painting with watercolor can bring the artist into such focused concentration. I like to work in mixed water media. I love the transparency, but I also love to push the limits of it. The fusion of water and color is very interesting, Water is elusive and abstract. Color can be seen and controlled in a concrete way. An artist must control this seemingly more accidental medium through the cultivation of his own subjectivity.
